St Says Here

HOLLYWOOD, April 16.—Well, our hope out here in Los Angeles got re-elected for a third time recently. And Mayor M. Brown has learned how to win an election in Southern California—by having the only political machine in the country with fight lights. His opponent was a restaurant owner and seemed to have an awful good chance. His platform? "Don't change horses in the middle of the stream." But there wasn't any water in the Los Angeles race. In fact, it looked like a desert. So he changed his slogan to "Don't trade horses during a storm." His opponent followed during a storm. He was known before the polls opened, predicting a landslide—and after they closed, demanding a recount.

FUNNY BUSINESS—Joe's setting an example to get him to wiggle

Liberal Party's First Objective Is Jobs For All

CHATHAM, Ont., April 15.—(CP)—In post-war policy the provision of maximum employment is the first objective of the Liberal party, Paul Martin, parliamentary secretary to Labor Minister Mitchell, said at a speech Saturday night at a Liberal gathering.

"The Liberal party, through its developing social security program now firmly launched by provision for old age pensions, unemployment insurance and family allowances, is preventing a repetition of the failures following the last war," he said, "and what virtually was the opening gun of the Liberal election campaign."

NO NEGATIVE POLICY
"Our policy is not a negative one. The provision of maximum employment is the first objective of the Liberal party. Once again Liberalism calls for the awakening of social conscience."

When war ends, he said, the drive for an all-out war effort will become a drive for an all-out peace effort.

The challenge is great. It will not be met by making a fetish of public or private enterprise, by clinging to old things and refusing to adopt new courses. The Liberal party believes that these things must be done, and that the solution will not be found in extremes but in the judicious combination of the virtues of the claims of those who go too far either to the left or to the right.

"The Liberal party proceeds on the basis that Canada's industries, investments, labor relations and, in general, its economic ties, will develop on a foundation of sound international relationships, will be sustained alongside a sound and socially responsible program of public investment of unskilled labor and materials."

BELIEF OF PARTY
He believes that the fullest level of employment will be secured by creating those capital resources which eventually will pay dividends of the greatest human value."

He declared that in prosecution of the war the Liberal government "has in the main succeeded in its task through the willing co-operation of Canadians generally."

"Our rights must continue to be high because to those of us who remain in Canada there is a clear duty to see that the aim beyond victory, the faith in our purpose which alone justifies and glorifies the bloodshed, is not lost."

Alberta Brief Urges National Policy For Coal

and extension of the coal industry of Canada as for as economically feasible."

The brief also calls for formation of a national fuel board, composed of representatives of the Dominion and provincial governments, mining operators and miners. This board, which would function continuously, would be charged with responsibility of effecting a national coal policy.

"The major function of such a board should be to advise the Dominion government on matters pertaining to subventions; freight rates, fiscal policies, and also in co-ordinating the relationship of all phases of the coal industry in Canada, and to facilitate their harmonious operation without assuming administrative control or interfering in any way with the autonomy of the provinces or their administration of matters pertaining to the coal industry within their respective jurisdictions," the submission states.

ON FREIGHT RATES

On the freight rate question, the submission calls for the Dominion government "to take immediate and effective action to establish by statute substantially reduced freight rates for coal with provision for flexibility to meet emergency or changing conditions."

It also asks that the royal commission make "complete and thorough" investigation with the board of transport committees and the railways of the "present high basic 88-per-cent freight rate" on coal shipments from Alberta to Ontario.

A further demand on the freight rate question calls for a complete examination of freight handling costs, in respect to present-day conditions. This investigation would determine the possibility of rates more favorable to coal than the use of modern equipment and solid trains.

The submission recommends that "an effective incentive be presented to the two great railway systems, themselves national in scope, to use Canadian coal more extensively in their own systems."

LONG TERM SUBVENTIONS

A new basis for subventions governed by zones rather than provincial boundaries, is recommended in the brief. Subventions should be established on a long-term basis, subject to review every ten years, according to this recommendation.

"In view of the fact that the agriculture and mining industries in Alberta are paying large subsidies in the form of tariffs to industries in Ontario and Quebec, it should be regarded as just and right that the federal government assist the coal industry of Alberta," it is argued by the government.

Standardization of quality of coal is called for in another recommendation. Such standards would be controlled by provincial authority, under powers set up by the

Gen. Pearkes, VC, Agrees to Run For Tory Party

DUNCAN, B.C., April 15.—(CP)—One of Canada's most distinguished soldiers and the first general of this war to enter politics, Maj.-Gen. George H. Pearkes, VC, has accepted the Progressive Conservative party nomination for Nanaimo in the coming federal election.

In accepting the nomination at a party convention here Saturday, Gen. Pearkes, former general officer commanding-in-chief of the Pacific Command, said he would devote every minute from now on to ascertain the desires of the electors in Nanaimo constituency "so that I may give the type of leadership they look for and may interpret their desires to the government."

Outlining events which led to his replacement by Maj.-Gen. F. W. Worthington, former commander at Camp Borden, as Pacific Command head, Gen. Pearkes said he had endeavored to apply the manpower and reinforcement policies of the government, but "eventually it became quite plain to me that politics were a priority over national interest."

ASKED FOR RELEASE
"I felt that I could no longer give loyal and conscientious service. To continue to hold my appointment under these circumstances would have been dishonourable. I therefore asked to be relieved."

"After a fair trial," the general said, "it became evident that the policy of asking officers to appeal repeatedly to their soldiers to volunteer for active service had been disastrous."

"Discipline had been ruined and the authority of officers undermined by refusal of large numbers of men to accept the orders of their officers."

Gen. Pearkes said "We have been informed that adequate reinforcements have been made available and now are on the other side of the Atlantic."

"... but there is still much uncertainty and one is tempted to ask if the conscription regulations are being applied for military purposes or as a political bludgeon."

"After Sicily, Italy and Germany had been overrun, the great President Roosevelt was pressed to volunteer for the Pacific so that more Zambos (home defence troops) may continue their service in Canada? The willing are called upon again and again and again. There is no equality of service or of sacrifice."

CALCUTTA, April 15.—(AP)—Troops of the 15th Indian Corps have captured Taungup, Japanese coastal supply base in Central Burma, cutting the enemy's only good escape route from the Arakan area, a communiqué said today.

The capture meant virtual completion of the three-year Arakan campaign. Pursuit of the withdrawing Japanese was the final task for the 15th Corps.

The troops already were reported to have advanced to high ground positions south of the town of Taungup. The communiqué reported rapid progress was being made by 14th Army troops operating south and southeast of Meiktila.

Today's Sport Parade

By Leo H. Petersen

NEW YORK, April 16.—(BUP)—Luke Sewell, pilot of the St. Louis Browns, came out boldly Saturday and predicted his team was the one to beat in the 1945 American League pennant race, but most of the other major league managers were more cautious in pre-season statements to the British United Press.

"We're the team to beat," Sewell, who led the Browns to their first pennant last year only to lose out to the Cardinals in the world series, said. "I'll take our pennant chances over any other club providing further inroads of the draft are equally distributed. Our most valuable asset is last year's pennant winning experience."

Here is how some of the other managers lined up their clubs in the British United Press poll and CARDS PITCHING IS GOOD BILLY SOUTHWORTH, Cardinals—"I can't predict because I don't know the assets of the other clubs. Our pitching looks good with the addition of Parsonheimer, Cribb, Burkhardt and an improved Brierly. I think we will be a slacker. Our outfield is shaping up with youngsters."

Charlie Grimm, Cubs—"If our pitching holds up, we'll be up there in the first division come whatever all season long."

Sammy Davis, White Sox—"Having lost key men in all departments, it doesn't look much better than where we finished last season, seventh."

Leo Durocher, Dodgers—"I never make predictions, but I will say that the pitching will be better and therefore the club will be better. We have a hustling ball club."

Mel Ott, Giants—"I think the club has definitely improved over last year and I think the club will finish in the first division."

PHILIES STRONGER PHILLY FITZSIMMONS, Phillies—"We've added defensive and pitching strength and I think we'll gain a lot."

Connie Mack, Athletics—"Things look pretty bright and we are hoping to finish in the first division."

Frankie Frisch, Pirates—"I say we were a cinch to finish one-two with all other teams we have our problems but we aren't going to be easy to beat."

Joe McCarthy, Yankees—"I'm not concerned about the Browns or any other club. The Browns are the Browns. Sewell's worry. My worry is the Yankees."

CANADIAN SPORTSHOTS

By FRED KERNER

Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, April 16.—(CP)—

Fair and conversation play strange tricks. Last Wednesday afternoon, shortly before word that Clarence

(Moore) Jamieson had been killed was received, a group of hockey's old-timers were telling tales of hockey's early days. Most of the years were linked with the whimsical

Moore.

Discussing the man who became one of hockey's legendary characters were King Clancy, Bill

Chadwick, John Chick, and others of the old school. Chick told the story of what was probably the last of the strange experiences of the lovable Moore.

Moore was official umpire for an American Hockey League play-off between Cleveland and Buffalo. He arrived at the Buffalo

Auditorium without a ticket and had been instructed to apply at the box office for a special pass.

But in Moore's better hockey days and officials didn't need any special tickets and he wasn't going to be bothered by any special ceremony. Eddie Dyer's audience is rated one of the toughest sports arenas in the west, however, and Jamieson made no progress.

Finally a head official came up to ask about the trouble was. "They can't do this to me," shouted Moore.

"I'm a league official. I've got to get into this rink even if I have to plug my way in."

He then ordered the attendant

"It's John Chick the vice-president of the league. He doesn't need a ticket."

PERTINENT POSERS: Vancouver

Headlins ladies' hockey team has been acclaimed Canadian champions

after their series with Edmonton

Pats. Where does the Vancouver team come by the title when western teams have never taken a crack at the ladies from the Pacific province?

If Pat Boehmer, the Kitchener lad who has been leading St. Michael's net with such success has not been asked for school this year,

he would have been Maple

Leaf. We wonder where Leafs would have ended up with the attitude keeper who showed better in the pre-season workouts?

Association Opens

Season Wednesday

COLUMBUS, O., April 16.—(AP)—

The American Association—its eight clubs pronounced in the best shape since they started spring training in the north—opens its 44th season Wednesday.

Last year Milwaukee won the pennant by a seven-game margin over second-place Toledo. Toledo and Louisville, in particular, are in a position to make a rugged contest of Milwaukee's bid for a third straight pennant.

Opening day schedule:

Milwaukee at Minneapolis.

Kansas City at St. Paul.

Indianapolis at Columbus (night).

Louisville at Toledo (night).

Dies of Injuries

CALGARY, April 16.—(CP)—A former navigator in the RCAF who completed two tours of operations overseas, Alexander Noble Watson,

28, died in hospital Saturday afternoon from injuries he received when he was thrown from his motorcycle a few hours earlier.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

War Wives' Lot Hard; Girls Should Remember Soldier's Mate Must Be Ultra-Discreet Lest Tongues Wag; She Must Watch Her Every Step

DEAR MISS DIX: A lot of criticism is being launched at the young war wives for not sitting at home and sucking their thumbs while their husbands are fighting overseas. Do you think the world is going to smash if the poor little war wives, at an innocent evening's gathering, smile graciously on a male companion? If they do in their little town, tongue wag, and the girl in question gets a prompt but extremely unjust dragging over the coals.

Wont you tell these busybodies, who are mostly older women whose husbands are safe and sound in their hee-hee little home nests, just what war wives are going through, and that we carve and need a little leeway? I'd like to tell these trouble-makers that we sleep in the middle of the night, but in the daytime we are only trying to act the same as we would in normal times.

ANSWER: But these are not normal times, my dear. The situation the young war wives face is not normal and they can't act as they normally would. Whether they like it or not, they have got to cut their garments according to their cloth and live up to public expectation of what they should be and do.

I hold no brief for the busybodies who pry into all the comings and goings of their young wives and whose evil minds make them feel it their sacred duty to act. I think that human meanness touches its lowest depths in those who feel it their sacred duty to pry into the husbands across the sea that their wives were sent out with some old boy friend, or that they were getting talked about because they were running around to parties with good-looking soldiers or sailors.

I have every sympathy with these wives who are stranded by the absence of their husbands. They were used to dates, to stepping out to some place of amusement every evening, to going to day parties, to the admiration and flattery of men. Their husbands' absence hasn't changed them. They still crave the pleasure that belongs to their time of life. Their feet still ache to dance. They are still bored to tears by long evenings spent at home with nobody but Mama and Papa and the cat with whom to talk.

It is natural that they should long for the companionship of men. But the trouble is that they can no longer take it without being talked about and without its also becoming dangerous to them, because a loose-tongued girl is easy prey for any good-looking and sympathetic man.

The number of young war wives who are being lured into love with strangers makes the war divorce as appalling a tragedy as war deaths in battle. And even when the girl's association with a man is innocent, it stabs her absent husband in the heart with a jealousy that breaks down his morale.

The situation is a pitiful one. It can't be helped. It is the war.

DEAR MISS DIX: We have been reading a lot lately about the appalling conditions in our jails. Do you think the women's organizations could do anything about it if they would take the matter up?

ANSWER: I KNOW that the women's organizations could clean up the jails and make them sanitary and see that the prisoners, and especially the juvenile prisoners, who are incarcerated in them, are given decent treatment and food. For there is no reform that organized women cannot bring about if they will unite and put their whole force behind the movement.

Politicians are more afraid of women than they are of anything else in the world, and when the Amalgamated Order of Ladies Inspectors gets to prying into the cells and inspecting the kitchens of jails and reformatories, there will be such a housecleaning as never has been before.

ARE HAPPIER

DEAR MISS DIX: We are a group of girls who are in our teens. We have decided to be old maids and live together. Do you think this is a good idea, and do you think that we will change our minds?

ANSWER: No, I don't think it is a good idea. I think that the women who marry who have good husbands and children and nice homes are happier and more useful than any other women in the world.

But there is no use in worrying over your being an old maid because some good-looking chap will come whistling down the street and you will get up and follow him.

Dies at Montreal

MONTREAL, April 16.—(CP)—Mrs. Alice Elizabeth Heneker, daughter of Sir John Abbott who succeeded Sir John A. Macdonald as prime minister of Canada in 1891, died here Saturday. Her age was 84.

Minute Make-Ups

For bleaching freckles, use a lemon-sisalpat treatment twice a week. Here is the formula for the mask. Mix the white of one egg with the juice of one lemon. Blend in sufficient oatmeal or almond meal to make a thin paste. Apply to the skin and leave on until dry about 20 to 30 minutes. Rinse off with lukewarm water. Use a nourishing oil or cream at least once a day while bleaching, as the lemon juice has a slightly drying effect.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

DON'T WATCH YOUR DIET

It has been profitable as well as entertaining reading (over past fifteen years) I have learned a good deal from your articles, not just about health alone but many other things. Yet in spite of your lambent style I find many inconsistencies in your teachings and I wonder if you don't take a special delight in being perverse and unconventional upon as many questions as possible. For instance in one lesson you ridicule the idea of watching one's diet, and then in another lesson (the one about "Tankee Stomach") you say it occurs wherever people are unwise about their eating and drinking and careless about their digestion. Well? (T. L. H.)

You have me at a disadvantage but not in a dilemma. Had you quoted enough from the article about "Tankee Stomach" you would have realized there is no inconsistency there, for as I went on to explain, people are careless about their digestion, particularly that part of digestion that goes on in the mouth during mastication and (b) in the stomach for half an hour or more after the food is swallowed if the food has been well chewed.

Just between ourselves and not for publication I confess, my dear colleague, that is running all over the place as I do, sometimes I mean what seems to be myself coming and I have to duck down the nearest dark alley to avoid the flash.

Call it what you will, I maintain it is silly and even mischievous to "watch your diet" or "watch your digestion" or "watch your bowels" or "watch your temperature" or "watch your pulse"—in the sense in which most witnesses take the morbid suggestion. And I am equally certain that it would do good greatly to the betterment of health, happiness and longevity if the so-called "educated" class could learn enough elementary physiology in their youth to make them realize that you can't hope to enjoy good health unless you save your teeth.

I feel sorry for you, T. L. H., even as I feel those epithets to prod and irritate you into some sort of reaction. For all your smug complacency you are as glib as the millions of other Wascans in Vancouver.

And speaking of saving your teeth, may I ask rhetorically, of getting an answer, just what, if anything, YOUR dentist has done about saving your teeth—aside from making such repairs as you reluctantly seek and grudgingly pay for when you can't limp along without them?

Dentists are absurdly squeamish about their legal right to use the title "Doctor" (which no one can dispute) but at the same time they seldom live up to the title, which means teacher; when young people with neglected teeth come under their care. Trouble with the dentists is they are too glibly—and the shrewd business men who exploit them want to keep them so.

"WE'RE GOING TO MAKE OUR SAVINGS FIGHT—AS Victory Bonds"

EVERY son of Canada in our fighting forces is giving his best—yes, sometimes his all—for victory. Without that full measure of support from us at home—which is their just due—their task would be desperate, difficult and well-nigh impossible. That is why every dollar that can be spared should be a fighting dollar.

The dollars are here in Canada today—whole battalions of them. There has been a steady increase in savings since the 7th Victory Loan. Those savings are needed now to help assure Victory.

And furthermore—Victory Bonds are backed by the finest security in the World—all the wealth and resources of The Dominion of Canada.

Victory Bonds are "liquid" assets—easily converted back to dollars if needed in an emergency.

Victory Bonds yield 3% interest—paid to you without fail, half yearly.

Victory Bonds will act as a backlog of family resources after the war and will be on hand to help you realize your post-war plans.

You alone can make the decision. Think it through. Your savings will yield a higher return as Victory Bonds. At the same time they will be upholding our sailors, soldiers and airmen in their world-wide fight for freedom.
